Thanks Royden for the update.

To add to updates, there is a US National Academies scoping meeting in DC that Larry Clark, Owain Edwards, Dan Tompkins, and I will be attending on the 23 Feb. in DC titled "Scoping Meeting: Gene Editing and its Potential for Use in Vertebrate Management". This is being led by Larry and Jamie Reaser (National Invasive Species Council) in conjunction with NCSU staff and is designed to be a complimentary effort to the "Gene Drives on the Horizon" report but specific to vertebrates. This is broader than GBIRD, but has high relevance. We will update the list on how it goes after the meeting.

Cheers,
Karl

Importance: High

Hi GBIRD Partnership Please Read,

DARPA Thanks again to John Godwin, who is leading a Herculean effort, an Everest Challenge. If successful, DARPA will have increased funding by orders of magnitude to this point!! We knew this was going to be DARPA hard going into the application, but PLEASE, PLEASE, PLEASE be continue to support any request he has regarding these negotiations!

White House OSTP - Karl, Owain, Dan and I will be presenting the GBIRD program to the Pandemic Prediction and Forecasting Science and Technology Working Group at the White House Conference Center on Wednesday. There are ~150 governmental representatives on this working group. We can expect ~60 for the presentation. Modeling may be a prominent topic of discussion for this meeting.

=C2=B7 Modeling - Speaking of modeling, Jacob or I will send out a = doodle poll with those associated with Modeling aspect of GBIRD. The inten= t is to formalize a process for integrating modeling data into our planning= and strategy process. Please keep a lookout for this poll.
