Subject: Senate Committee Hearing on Innovation for Combating Invasive Species

Dear Innovation Summit Participants:

We'd like to draw your attention to a recent hearing held by the Senate Committee on Environment and Public Works on innovation for combating invasive species and conserving wildlife. The Innovation Summit received particular note.

Please follow the link to the hearing webcast, including remarks by Committee Chair, Senator Barrasso, and panelist, NISC Ex Dir. Jamie K. Reaser, featuring the Summit.

The Senator and Ranking Members written remarks are also available here: <https://www.epw.senate.gov/public/>

Jamie's written testimony is attached.

Note: The Innovation Summit report is in the final stages of editing. We hope to be able to release the document at the end of the month/early April. A short science-policy piece is also nearing completion.

All the best,
Jason
